Glamour Concept founder
Anna Elizabeth makes beauty a mobile affair.

ON THE MOVE

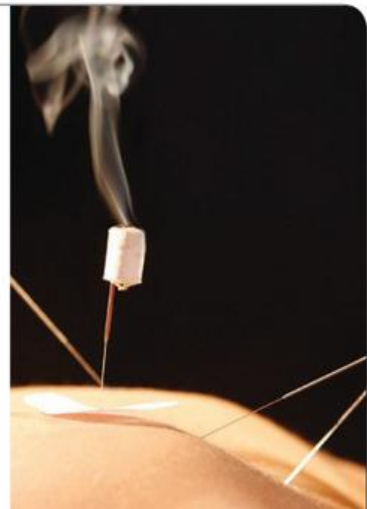

With her enviable, glamorous glow and knack for personal service, Anna Elizabeth has built a cult following in local circles. The leggy former model introduced Miami to the themed nail treatments trend with her perennially packed Lace Nail Lab in Sunset Harbour, which she founded nearly a decade ago and recently sold. Moving on, literally, her newly launched Glamour Concept is a mobile pop-up salon and boutique. "I still want to pamper people without the day-to-day grind of running a brick-and-mortar business," says Elizabeth, who sets up her beauty bazaar in spas, boutiques and private homes. "VIPs really enjoy the privacy, and we've had great success with beauty parties at which you invite your friends for a day of pampering." Elizabeth's seasoned team includes Dustin Ki, a hair stylist whose skills go beyond blowouts to head-turning updo looks for women and haircuts for men, as well as mini manis, facials and professional makeup. Just as top-notch are the products Elizabeth uses: lines from Oribe, Dr. Hauschka Skin Care and Zoya are in her bag of goodies—or your own, if you're that picky. Bring it on! She knows the customer is always right.

Needle Work

Currently operating from her secret lair inside The Standard Spa in Miami Beach, acupuncturist Lori Bell has been wielding needles like tiny magic wands for more than 20 years. Though many clients come in for common aches and pains associated with stress or awkward sleeping positions, she also specializes in infertility treatments that improve circulation and reduce anxiety. "Whether it's asthma or insomnia, it's always worth trying this simple, effective method before taking more drastic measures like medication or surgery," says Bell, whose holistic healing services now extend to other areas of Chinese and alternative medicine such as herbal blends, and Vitamin B12 shots, which become especially popular during high season's hectic social pace. 40 Island Ave., Miami Beach, 305.674.1188, loribellacupuncture.com
